Bologna, October 12th, 1987.

Dear Dr. Taminiau,

On the 27th and 28th of September 1987 a meeting was held near Venice for a joint effort to constitute a European Society on bone and soft tissue tumours.

There were nineteen Collegues, invited as representatives of eleven European countries, major working groups, and principal specialities. The list of these Collegues is enclosed.

It was unanimously felt that such a Society is needed and it is needed now. By laws were throughly discussed, jointly elaborated and unanimously approved. These by laws are enclosed.

The Society has been legally founded and named "European Musculoskeletal Oncology Society (E.M.S.O.S.)".

The founding members have elected the officers of the Society: M. Campanacci (President), R. Kotz (Vice-President), L. Gennari (Secretary-Treasurer), Z. Matejovsky, U. Nilsonne, M. Salzer-Kuntschik, R. Souhami, A. Trifaud, J. Van der Eijken, K. Winkler (Executive Committee).

The founding members decided to complete full membership by invitation of additional 37 collegues whose names are also included. The total of 56 full members is representative of the following 15 European nations: Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, East Germany, France, Hungary, Italy, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland The Netherlands, United Kingdom, and West Germany.

It is therefore my privilege to inform that you have been unanimously invited to become a full member of the E.M.S.O.S.

I look forward to receiving your acceptance at your earliest convenience. Meanwhile let me heartily and warmly congratulate. I am sure this will be the start of the most close and fruitful mutual co-operative work.

Looking forward to giving you further information and meeting you soon. I remain

Yours sincerely,
 Mario Campanacci
